

Dramacube is recruiting into its Mini Musicals Team

We are searching for talented and experienced performing arts teachers to join our Saturday morning Mini Musicals Team for students aged 5 – 7yrs starting this summer.

Dramacube Productions are an award-winning Performing Arts Company who use performance as a platform to educate and inspire young people.

Dramacube was established in 2012 and now offers a range of classes to almost 200 children each week. Every term ends with our performances at Hampton Hill Theatre including our Mini Groups who we love to get on the stage.

We are looking for people who are not only creative and confident in this role but have great singing, dancing and drama experience. Classroom, organisational and people skills. Previous performing arts teaching experience or professional training at University / Drama School are desirable.

We have two positions available:

Head of Mini Musicals

Core Responsibilities will include:

- Creation of exciting programmes
- Developing additional classes
- Recruitment and training of new teachers and assistants
- Managing & supporting the teaching team and assistants
- Running school workshops around the Richmond borough
- As well as teaching classes

Mini Musical Teacher

Core Responsibilities will include:

- Creation of exciting term-time class or workshop content
- Delivering inspiring 90-minute drama, movement, and music classes
- Liaising with parents at the start and end of each class
- Setting up venue prior to each class

The Teaching hours are Saturdays 8.45am – 12.05pm in Hampton Hill. With additional work available during school holidays. The rates of pay are £35.00 p/h and £31.50 p/h+ fees for additional management work + performance bonus.
